HOUMA

Travel just an hour southwest of New Orleans and you'll enter Louisiana's Bayou Country – Houma, Louisiana. Bordered by the bountiful Gulf of Mexico, surrounded by bayous and shaded by an endless canopy of moss-draped cypress trees, here in the Houma area, you'll find a rich and rare blend of nature that allows for an unimaginable mix of wildlife, found in few places on earth.

Our swamps and wetlands overflow from the exotic to the breathtaking and wondrous. Our waters are abound with some of the world's best fishing. Houma's centuries old Cajun history and heritage is infused in everything from our cooking and music to our architecture and lifestyle.

Houma's WILD SIDE

OVER 2,500 SQUARE MILES OF MYSTERIOUS SWAMPS AND VAST WETLANDS TO EXPLORE

IT'S A SWAMP THING

Come visit the home of the original swamp people. Take one of our many exciting swamp tours and begin a mysterious and thrilling journey into the unknown and unexpected.

Here you'll glide across an undulating carpet of vibrant flora that's shaded by an endless canopy of moss-draped cypress trees. The swamp and adjacent wetlands are home to the strange and unique: nutrias, rare and exotic birds, deer, wildcats, black bears, otters and a wide assortment of reptiles big and small, including the ancient and ferocious kings of the swamp – the giant alligators. Venture into Houma's swamps and wetlands and you won't just see the sights – you'll be a part of them.

Centuries Old CAJUN CULTURE

EXPERIENCE CAJUNICITY

Visit Houma and you'll experience "Cajunicity" – the joie de vivre, or love for life that's ingrained into every aspect of our culture. You'll see it reflected in our distinctive Cajun architecture and you'll experience it at our boisterous fêtes and fais do-dos. You'll hear it resonate within our colorful Cajun language and lively music, and you'll taste its rich flavor in our Cajun cooking.

It's that uniqueness that defines us as a whole – as a people, a culture and a community. It originates from our unbridled love of life, music, food and camaraderie that's woven a centuries old enchantment found nowhere else on earth!

FISHERMAN'S Paradise

WORLD-CLASS
FISHING ALL YEAR ROUND

HEY MA, LOOK WHAT I CAUGHT

With some of the best in world-class fishing, Louisiana's Bayou Country allows for a diverse combination of fishing that makes it a true fisherman's paradise.

Whether you bring your own boat or use one of our countless charter services, you'll find multiple marinas and convenient accommodations guaranteed to create the perfect mix for your trip.

The Houma area also has some of the most liberal fishing limits in the country, so don't miss the catch of a lifetime!

Let's EAT

FOOD LIKE NO OTHER

Come on down and try one of our many delectable gumbos, delicious étouffées, spicy jambalayas or a mouth-watering shrimp creole that's been in the family recipe book for generations. One bite and you'll think you've died and gone straight to Cajun heaven.

Want something a little less formal? Ask a local where you can enjoy an authentic Cajun seafood boil full of fresh-caught crabs, crawfish and shrimp mixed with potatoes, sausage and corn-on-the-cob and get ready to relish in an unforgettable meal.

From fine dining to down home cookin', Houma has great taste when it comes to eating right!

ART, MUSEUMS, & PLANTATIONS

Acadian Deportation Cross Monument

7910 Park Avenue, Houma, LA 70364

The Acadian Deportation Cross Monument was created by the Société Nationale de l'Acadie. There are 10 monuments in all marking the journey of the expelled Acadians. Houma's Monument is the first in the United States. The Monument is located in front of the Bayou Terrebonne Waterlife Museum. Panels in English and French tell the story of the Acadians' journey and the settlement in Terrebonne Parish. A map shows the many routes taken by the Acadians following deportation. A cross adorns the top of the Monument — a replica of the Grand Pre' deportation cross.
